

Jose Gonzalez
Director of Guest Services

the wag way.

It's no secret that we at Wag Hotels take the health and safety of our pets very seriously. Yet we do not stop with the guests that stay within our own walls; rather, we take an active role in keeping those same standards throughout the greater pet community.

Recently Wag Hotels has developed a partnership with Sacramento Area Animal Coalition's "Spay Day," the country's largest one-day spay/neuter event for the past nine years.

"Spay Day" serves the Northern California area and its lower-income families to provide vaccination and spay/neuter services to those whom otherwise might not be able to afford the care. Keeping the pets of those families safe and healthy is a shared goal, and with 1000 dogs and cats participating, Wag Hotels couldn't be more in support of creating a healthier pet population.

It is important for us to be present in the community, not only as the pet lovers we are, but also as active members working towards a common goal. We believe that taking this initial step and partnering with such a strong and important organization will only be the beginning of what we can accomplish. Our commitment to all pets and their safety, happiness and health, is something that we will continue to evolve and perfect as we grow.

Stay posted as we look forward to sharing upcoming programs and events that support both your pets and those in our pet community.

All the best,
Jose

If you would like to send Jose a question about caring for you dog/cat, please email him at info@waghotels.com.